When the Eber left Apia the German Consulate was burned down, and two German store houses were destroyed. This news has caused considerable agitation in Berlin, and the Foreign Office there is in a state of commotion.

Berlin, 23rd—It is currently rumoured here that in the interview with the United States Minister, on the subject of the Samoa affair, Lord Salisbury stated that England would co-operate with the United States in demanding satisfaction for the aggression on the part of the Germans, on the understanding, however, that international treaties were violated by Germany in this case.

New York, 23rd—The news is confirmed of the organization of a syndicate in London to take over the bonds of the Mexican Central Railway. This arrangement has been brought about by the activity and energy of the President of the company. The operations of this business will be confined to new York bankers.

THE NEW FINANCE MINISTER

It is generally accepted that our new Minister of Finance will be Don Rufino Varela, who is admitted by all to be a man of great ability and wide experience. Mr. Varela filled the post of Provincial Minister of Finance during the very trying years of 1875 and 1876, and we can safely say that there are few of our public men of more honorable antecedents. The change in the administration of the National Treasury at the moment is, we consider, a turning point, not only in the None better than Mr. Varela himself, who has just returned from Europe, can appreciate the difficulties that at present surround this market, or devise the remedies. We have such great confidence in his judgment and sound comprehensive views that we congratulate President Juarez Celman on having secured for his Cabinet a man of such acknowledged abilities, and although at the moment of his taking office it would be unwise to attempt too much; still, in view of the restriction of credit in the London Market, and the great inflation of everything here, things have greatly changed both in London and in the Plate since the passing of the Free Banking Law, and possibly Mr. Varela will himself see that the slower we proceed in carrying out this law the better. It would be prudent at least for a season to pause on the issue of any further paper money in the Interior, as it would also be wise to check, as far as possible, the too heavy and frequent issue of Cedulas. The money market needs breathing time, and the granting of millions of Provincial Cedulas to one man, no matter on what property, whether centro agricola or otherwise, should not be allowed.

The high premium on gold and great depreciation of our currency are not due to the demands of trade or the requirements of business, but to the general distrust that prevails; and, it should be the solemn duty of the new Minister to remove that distrust, and by sound, prudent measures restore confidence.

We want no fresh importations of gold, no artificial bolstering of the exchange market, but what we do need is a lower "presupuesto" and a wiser and more prudent financial policy.

Around us are springing up daily mushroom companies of every calibre, which, owing to the infancy of our market, are afforded facilities that it would be wise on the part of the new Minister to restrict. The country possesses such immense resources; its population and wealth are growing so rapidly, that with a little prudence we shall grow out of the difficulties that at present surround us. Mr. Varela's great connection with the market, his intimacy with our merchants and bankers will prove most advantageous, once it will bring him more in contac, with the market and rescue him from that purely Government House atmosphere which blinds so many of our public men to what is really going on.

With much pleasure we, therefore, say that the appointment of Mr. Varela to the post of Minister of Hacienda has given the most widespread satisfaction, and that he meets with a welcome on entering office to which his valuable services in former years, when he saved the very credit of the nation, so justly entitle him.

THE CITY OF B. AYRES MORTGAGE BANK.

In official banking quarters there is unfortunately a general and well established opinion, confirmed by a traditional complacency inherent to the soft cushions of a bank-chair, and accepted by that meek crowd who live by trade, business and industry, that the grant of an application for discount or mortgage implies a great favor for the receiver and considerable charity on the part of the bestower. Meek haberdashers, sleek consignees, oily importers, and obsequious house-owners, to mention a few out of the big crowd, have stood this kind of condescension of financial magnates for many years, but it is time to, turn over a new leaf and define positions. The dispensers of such high favors affect to ignore that it is in reality the Bank that receives the favor, not the market, and the sooner this principle is established and the actual status between the Bank President, or Director, and the market is thoroughly reversed by brisk banking competition the better for the banks and the better for the market.

Only the other day, after a disagreeable disclosure in reference to a mammoth mortgage grant of $3½ millions it was announced with comic gravity that the La Plata Mortgage Bank would in the future give preference to applicants for 1,000 and less Cedulas. The very fact that such applications, which are the safest, should be disregarded proves our case against the evil policy, in such quarters, where no end of begging cringing and intercession is necessary to get a few Cedulas for legitimate business. Watch how the evil grows! Only a year ago, the National Mortgage Bank, which is soundly managed, was taken to task for granting half a million Cedulas on a perfectly legitimate business in Rosario: today we see the La Plata presses under full steam to give out three and a half million Cedulas on one operation: Next year what will be the amount involved in such single speculative ventures? "Quien sabe?" Meantime the crying and legitimate applications of small capitalists, the safest and most remunerative of all, are pitched into the waste paper basket. A reform is badly wanted, and we have it at last in the shape of a private mortgahe bank started in this city under the style Banco Hipotecario de la Capital. We welcome it as the Mortgage Bank of the public, with all due regard to the beneficial action of the national mortgage bank. The new bank is launched at a most propitious moment, when mortgages are a crying necessity, in view of the requirements caused by the congested state of the population in this capital. At the present moment, our readers may not be aware of the fact, there are four thousand houses in course of construction, and at the rate the population is increasing this activity in building must go on at an accelerated pace to keep up with necessities. The new bank is a second undertaking: its capital is fixed at 20 million dollars gold, divided in 200,000 shares of $100 each, plus 20,000 shares which go to the concessionaires, who deserve even more for their fortunate idea.

The public will be glad to hear that the concern is taking definite shape and is backed up by the strongest most influential and enterprising capitalists in this market. Last Saturday the Board of the Bank held their first meeting on the bank premises in Calle Corrientes No. 537. All the preliminary resolutions were accepted. The following gentlemen, form the Board of Directors: Messrs Alexander Hume, Thomas Duggan, Peter C. hristophersen, Roberto Cano, Joseph Olmedo, D. Campillo, Mariano Benites, Hector Quesada, M. Aguirre, Emily Casares, Manuel Dias, L Decandia Rich. Eastman, Malbran and Chapman—all good names, representing millions. Before concluding we may add that the Bank is speaking of Rosario we are informed on good authority that the applications already presented in anticipation exceed the 30 millions, the limit which the Board intend to put to their first issue. In time it may assume the proportions of the French Credit Foncier, and can be recommended to the market as a sound undertaking of great promise.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

January 17th

After three months of the most variable weather ever known in this country, as everyone acknowledges, there appears to be an indication of a change for the better. We have really had no summer as yet; some, a few hot days, immediately followed by deluge of rain. I have not found out how many inches of water fell in this Department within the last three months but it must have been unprecedented. It was not in water spouts the rain came, except after a hot day, but it was the extraordinary persistency, as if the celestial tanks up aloft were in a leaky condition, and the C of the W too busy with gold speculation to see about having them mended. A characteristic of this continuous downpour was the almost total absence of electric storms, happy thing for timorous old ladies. We have had now no less than three days of clear weather, and the barometer is evidently doing its best to get up to "Fair," after being "invariably" at "variable" for such a length of time. The grand adoquinado, for which the great town of Rosario has compromised itself to the tune of six millions, is in a pretty state with the rains. In some streets, and central ones too, it puts one in mind of the chops of the channel. The Intendente is too busy with a grand project of an "avenida de circumvalacion" to waste time over the streets.

This wide street that is to encircle the town is the subject of heated discussion, particularly with the property holders. I myself believe it is entirely impracticable, for it would require more money than even the Municipality can dispose of. About a year ago the Intendente got up a dazzling project of an Avenida, to be called San Martin, starting from the Boulevard Argentina, and running south for two miles. At the end was to be a park and Botanical Gardens. The thing looked so plausible, the Municipality seemed to take such an interest in the scheme, the whole staff of Engineers were set to work to lay out the road, prospectuses handed round, and quite an enthusiasm was got up. The Avenida San Martin y Jardines Botanicos rose to a premium. It was not long, however, before it was found out that the whole thing was a fraud got up by unscrupulous land speculators. I am inclined to the belief that the Avenida de Circumvalacion is a bird of the same feather.

Jan. 18th.

I will not guess at the weather again until the barometer marks "High and Dry." I hardly finished my lively paragraph on the three days fine sunshine we were blessed with, when a storm of "lightning, thunder, and of rain" occurred that lasted for twelve hours. The witches of Macbeth could not have improved on it, and as for any chance of a settlement in the upper regions, we might just as well hope for a settlement of the Pennsylvania Bonds. I am receiving very gloomy accounts from every direction of the wheat crops; even the fruit suffers, for moisture prevents the formation of alcohol, and the flavour of the fruit is deteriorated. This is particularly the case with grapes.

I took a run into the country the other day and was struck with admiration at the immense maize fields, and their splendid condition. We shall want all the new immigrants to harvest the crop of this province alone. The Alfalfa meadows are also in an unprecedented condition. Before the mowers get to one end of a field the other is again ready for the scythe. It put me in mind of the proverb they have on the Great Miami: In favorable seasons one can hear the vegetation grow.

The colony of Roldan, the first settled by the Central Argentine Land Company, is again coming to the fore. The soil of this colony is, perhaps, the richest in the province of Santa Fé; inexhaustible black soil with delicious water at from 12 to 15 feet from the surface. In 1871 the colonists commenced as agriculturists, and very soon the station was crowded daily with produce of all kinds, Roldan appeared destined to be the market garden for Rosario, and the village flourished accordingly. But it was only for a short time. The locusts came and for four years devastated that, as well as other colonies. By the end of that time, the disappointed colonists had turned their lands into cattle farms; and so it has remained ever since. The pretty town, literally embowered in trees, went to the dogs. It is true the inhabitants are a most retrograde lot; have not the least idea of progress; and, although only fourteen miles from Rosario, live under the shade of their forests of trees like a tribe of Congos under their palm oil trees. But the restless, active and go-ahead Ligurians are finding out the wonderful fertility of the lands of Roldan, and will, I hope, in a short time oust the cattle from the colony, and turn it into what it was intended for by nature, an agricultural garden. I spoke with one of these new Italian settlers who told me he had made two thousand dollars off his farm of 160 acres last year, and expects to make double that sum this year. He says he never saw such soil; that it was practically inexhaustible. He told me with a broad grin on his bronzed face, that he bought the land from a man who said he was tired of land where the weeds grew six feet high. My Ligurian wisely opined that where weeds grow six feet high the soil must be proportionately rich. Instead of weeds he has maize ten and twelve feet high.

The Buenos Aires and Rosario Railway people are not in the good books of our travelling public. They have moved their station away out of town to the great inconvenience of passengers. It would not be so bad were there any roads; but if it rains a little, and it is always raining a good deal, it becomes almost impossible to reach the station. The B. and R. Railway would do the right thing to take their passengers from the Central Argentine station again, at all events until the streets leading to theirs shall be paved.

Malgré the six millions for paving our streets, the papers are now baptizing Rosario Pantanopolis, a very proper change of nomenclature; so in future I shall, in it is very Shellyish. I was, I confess, non-plussed; could not remember which of the two was the author, so tossed up, heads for Shelley and tails for Keats, and heads won. Won't do it again Mr. X., if I can help it.

The Rosario Monte Carlo is growing into a robust financial institution. It has now upwards of 400 members, all of whom talk of millions with the same nonchalance as their progenitors did of ha'pence. In your poetic "On 'Change" language they think nothing of bouncing away hundreds of thousands on the Rouge et Noir, I mean on the gold premium. Go it, my hearties; our turn now, the people's to-morrow.

PUBLIC HEALTH IN RIO.

THE NEW FREE BANKING LAW.

COMPLAINTS OF EMIGRANTS.

(From the Rio News.)

Rio, 14th inst.

There is no disputing the circumstance that the intense heat of the past six or eight weeks has caused much fever in this city. There has not been a very large number of fatal cases, but at the same time there is now enough fever of a mild character to warrant a word of caution. Fortunately the heat has been accompanied by a dry atmosphere, and this has helped to keep many causes of infection well under control. The summer thus far closely resembles that of 1877-78, when yellow fever became epidemic in February and March. We then had a long spell of hot dry weather, and as the city had only the Carioca supply to depend upon there was much suffering for want of water. The city is now better supplied with water and is perhaps in a better sanitary condition. There is danger enough, however, to make it necessary to use every precaution. It will cost but the slightest effort to avoid extremes of temperature, excess in eating and drinking, and exposure to the sun. Great care should be taken in matters of diet, and to avoid exposure after becoming heated. It may be that the danger is more imaginary than real, but at the same time these simple precautions will do no harm. There is a great deal of bilious fever in the city, and there is also more yellow fever, of a mild character, than the board of health cares to admit.

Decree No. 10,144, dated on January 5th and published in the Diario Official of the 8th, approves the regulations of the law establishing banks of issue. The decree is too lengthy for literal translation, but the principal features are:

The total amount of government stock deposited can not exceed $200,000,000 which is divided as follows:

$100,000,000	for the city of Rio de Janeiro;
48,000,000	for the provinces of Pernambuco, Bahia, Rio de Janeiro, Minas Geraes, S. Paulo and Rio Grande do Sul—$8,000,000 for each province;
36,000,000	for the provinces of Pará, Maranhao, Ceará, Espirito Santo, Paraná and Santa Catherina—$6,000,000 for each province;
16,000,000	for the provinces of Amazonas, Piauhy, Rio Grande do Norte, Parahyba, Alagcos, Sergipe, Goyaz and Matto Grosso—$2,000,000 for each province.
$200,000,000

The capital of the proposed institutions may not be less than $5,000,000 in the city of Rio de Janeiro, $2,000,000 in the capitals of provinces and $1,000,000 in other localities.

No company can deposit more than two-thirds of its capital, nor an amount exceeding $20,000,000.

Once the maximum of $200,000,000 is reached no new licenses will be granted; but lapsed concessions may be granted to other institutions, and bankrupt banks substituted by new companies after their notes are redeemed.

The government may also authorize the issue of notes payable to bearer at sight, convertible into metallic money, to banking companies organized or re-organized with a metallic capital. These companies are relieved of the clause referring to the deposit of stock, but the other clauses relative to the maximum and minimum of capital, etc., remain in force. The issue can not exceed the triple of $200,000,000. To obtain the privilege of issue the companies must apply to the minister of finance or the approval of their statutes.

The Garibaldi, an Italian journal published in S. Paulo, in its issue of the 5th inst. prints a petition to H. M. the King of Italy, signed by more than 500 heads of families, requesting their restoration to the fatherland and alleging great ill-treatment. The document reads:

To H. M. Humbert I., King of Italy, Rome.

We the undersigned, chiefs of families, at present in the asylum of immigrants at S. Paulo, Brazil, abandoned to misery and hunger, treated as a horde of animals, perhaps to be delivered to a fatal destiny, slaves of inhuman speculators who for vile prices sell us to the planters, who, beyond not meeting stipulated conditions, make us suffer hunger, and for protection give us trees of the forest—beg and implore, prostrate before your Majesty, pity, compassion and a prompt return to our country, to the end that we may save the lives of our wives and children, for frequently has it happened that in this asylum of affliction they have died without medical assistance or medicines.

Order, your Majesty, that we be permitted to return to our Italy, our great mother-country. Order that we be restored to the liberty of which we are deprived by ravenous speculators and vile liars.

Confiding in the magnanimity of your character, always generous and compassionate as regards your subjects, we reverently hope for some decision from your Majesty, and in proof of what is above described, we have signed this document.

Immigrant Station at S. Paulo, 2nd January., 1889.

—The Diario Official of the 6th inst. publishes the decree, which was dated on the 10th ult., granting Barao de Jaceguay steamers, four in number, are to be built of steel and so constructed that guns of a certain calibre and torpedoes may be mounted on them; velocity 12 miles minimum and 16 maximum. The steamers are to be ready for service within 2½ years from January 1st 1889, and the usual conditions allowing the Government to use them in case of necessity are inserted; they will be under the Brazilian flag and officered and manned so far as possible by Brazilians. The favors granted are 25,000$ for subsidy per round trip; 15,000$ if the new ships on their outward voyages touch at the contract ports of call; 25,000$ per round trip made to fetch immigrants at ports out of the contract line; preference for the introduction of immigrants up to their carrying capacity; the right to bring in 20,000 European immigrants per annum at passage rates ruling, for which purpose chartered steamers may be employed. The contract will be for 15 years from the definite inauguration of the service.

—It appears that the Belgian immigrants who have been creating some little trouble recently, are not agricultural laborers, but artizans, and that for this latter class of immigrants there is no demand in Brazil. From what the local press says it is certain the government will have to pay the passages of these unhappy people back to their own country, but surely some one can be punished for such a fiasco.

—Those Belgian immigrants who have been camping out in the streets, are, according to the authorities, a bad lot who do not want to work. Why not send them back to Belgium and take the necessary precautions against the arrival of such undesirable additions to the population?

—The December receipts of the Bahia custom house amounted to 1,108,772$531 for the national treasury and 163,805$061 for the province. The receipts of the provincial recebedoria for the half year were 549,578$202, against 511,500$014 in the same period of last year.

—It is said that the drought has been so severe about Joazeiro, Bahia, that work on the extension of the Bahia and S. Francisco extension has become completely paralyzed. The heat has been intense throughout the interior of the province, particularly in the desert region through which this railway runs. In the town of Villa Nova water is so scarce that it sells for 500 reis to 1$000 per "carga."

—Official rates are unchanged and bills on London offices are obtainable at 27 7/16; commercial sterling is quoted at 27½—27⅝, with 27 9/16 considered the rate for business.

URUGUAYAN FINANCE

(From the Financial News)

Sir,—Whether or no Mr. Morice intends it I know not, but anyone who has closely followed Uruguayan affairs will regard his utterances in your columns to-day as ironical. Mr. Morice ought to be qualified to speak upon Uruguayan affairs, since his presence in that country—where the valuable experience he now sets forth was obtained—was owing to Uruguayan deceit and default in the past.

In 1874 the Uruguayan Government attempted to float a loan for £5,800,000 nominal, and, to assist it in its efforts, the then Consul-General in London, Don Carlos E. Soto, and Dr. Pedro Bustamente, ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer and Financial Agent for the Republic in Europe, published a pamphlet entitled "Uruguayan Stock as a Very Secure and a Most Profitable Investment." The effort to place this loan was entirely unsuccessful, owing chiefly to the exposure made by Mr. Gilbert J. Gardner.

In 1875 the Republic defaulted both on its interest and sinking fund, owing to the failure to issue the loan, which was proof positive that interest could only be paid by further borrowing. It was then that Mr. W. Morice went to Uruguay under the auspices of Messrs. Thompson, Bonar and Co., to arrange for some interest being paid. He was successful in obtaining, after a long time, the payment of a small sum, and finally, in 1883, the whole of the external and internal debt of the Republic was consolidated under the name of the Unified Debt, which was fixed at £11,112,600, and the Government succeeded in obtaining £836,600 in new bonds for their own purposes. Since that date down to the present interest has been punctually paid on the debt, though at times there have been serious apprehensions as to whether further borrowing could be effected so as to provide for interest.

In 1874, according to the official statement but forward, the population of Uruguay was 500,000 inhabitants, the debt amounted to £9,203,100, and the revenue of the Republic was £2,040,939. In 1883 as already pointed out, the whole debt was unified as £11,112,00. According to the statistics which have been lately issued by the Uruguayan Government, the public debt on December 31, 1887, amounted to £15,821,000. The population is now, according to the same statistics, approximately 632,250 inhabitants, and the revenue of the Republic is stated to be £2.759,600; so that it will be seen between 1874 and the beginning of 1888 the population had increased 26 3/5 per cent.—in 14 years—the revenue 35½ per cent. in the same period, and the debt nearly 72 per cent. without there being anything whatever to show for this large addition to the public burdens. This was the actual position of affairs, according to the admissions of the Uruguayan Government, just prior to their coming for their last loan.

Between 1883, just before the unification of the debt, and the beginning of this year, the additions to the public debt were at the rate of about a million sterling per annum, for which, as I have said, there is nothing whatever to show.

All this was prior to the taking over of the agency of the Republic by Messrs. Baring. It is clear, from the statement lately made by President Tajes, that the position of Uruguay in 1888 was worse than the position in 1874, prior to the default, and that had the Uruguayan Government not concealed the truth from the public, the Uruguayan Government would not have paid its last coupon. The additional loan of £4,350,000 sterling in April last has been simply swallowed up in clearing off floating indebtedness, which was created to meet the interest payments on the Unified Debt since 1883, and the balance over such payments has entirely disappeared, leaving President Tajes to face a still further [illegible] of scheme can be carried out the Government must first expropriate private lands, and that they have no money left where with to initiate this expropriation. Now they propose to raise money for this purpose at the remarkably high rate of 7 per cent. for interest and 3 per cent. for sinking fund. It is perfectly clear that the Uruguayan Government can pay no interest on its coupons without having recourse to a financial juggle similar to that practised before, by raising money on Treasury Bonds at exorbitant rates of interest.—I am, sir, yours, &c.,

One who has Suffered from Uruguayan Deceit.

London, December 19.

A SAD ENDING.

(FROM "A VISIT TO THE STATES," BY CORRESPONDENT OF The Times.)

On the north west corner of Fifth Avenue and Thirty-fourth Street is the magnificent white marble palace built by Alexander T. Stewart, when at the height of his fame as the leading New York merchant. It was intended to eclipse anything then known on the American Continent, and upon the building and its decoration £600,000 were expended. This noted house outshone all other New York dwellings until the Vanderbilt palaces were constructed further out the avenue. The Stewart fortune was an evidence of the enormous possibilities of New York as a place for successful trading, though much of the wealth he amassed was afterwards put in large buildings in profitable business localities, notably the great hotels on Broadway in the "dry goods district." Stewart, like Astor, began with almost nothing, though at a somewhat later period. He was a Belfast Irishman, born in 1802, who studied at Trinity College, Dublin, and without taking a degree migrated to New York as a teacher in 1818. But teaching was not to be his destiny, and he ultimately got into the "dry goods trade" in a small way, near the City-hall park, his business steadily expanding until he acquired all the adjacent buildings and erected the great store on Broadway with which his name was so long associated, and afterwards establishing a retail branch further up town. His business was enlarged in all directions until it became the greatest in America, with branches in the chief cities. Stewart owning the best American factories making the fabrics dealt in, besides being a large importer, his business methods involved the remorseless crushing of rivals, so that he made more enemies than friends, and in his latter years had only one trusted admirer, Judge Henry Hilton, whose modest brown-stone house adjoined his own on Thirty-fifth Street. But Stewart had a charitable side. He sent a ship load of provisions to Ireland in the famine of 1846, and made large public gifts to aid suffering, while at his death he was building on Fourth Avenue at Thirty-fourth Street, an enormous structure designed as a "Home for Working Girls," on which £300,000 was expended. When completed after his death it was opened, but under such stringent rules about cats, parrots, and "company" that there was soon a rebellion among the intended beneficiaries, and it had to be closed. There was a shrewd suspicion that the difficulty was intentional, for the place, which as a charitable foundation would have produced no revenue, was soon afterwards reopened as an hotel. Stewart had barely moved into his Fifth Avenue palace when he died, and his body was temporarily placed in a vault awaiting removal to the mausoleum being constructed at Garden City, Long Island, where he was building a town on an extensive estate he owned. Then the country was horrified with the news that the corpse had been stolen; not for prospective ransom, but to revenge business by enmity, and so far as known it was never recovered. His childless widow lived in gloomy grandeur until her recent death in the palace, without visitors, and with watchmen pacing the sidewalk day and night. Stewart's great business has been broken up and scattered since his death, and as he left no descendants the fortune went to collateral heirs, who are now quarrelling about it.

INSPECTOR SILVA'S REPORT—HE IS DISHEARTENED AND ADVISES THE BOARD TO FINE THE PACIFIC AND A. G. WESTERN. —TRIP OVER THE PACIFIC LINE.

WORK OF THE NORTH EASTERN ARGENTINE RAILWAY.

AMALGAMATION OF CENTRAL ARGENTINE AND NORTHERN RAILWAYS.

A very unfavorable report was received last evening from Inspector Silva who is at present in Villa Mercedes. He gives an account of an off-the-track, the 8th we believe within the last 4 months, due to the driver not pulling up in time to avoid running over a bullock. The accident caused a delay of thirteen hours. We skip over Mr Silva's remarks on this slight mishap, since in the concluding part of his report he makes some very serious charges against the Pacific and Argentine Great Western. He says he is tired calling the attention of the companies to the irregularities and abuses committed on their lines. The station-master pay no attention whatever to the instructions of Mr. Araoz or even of the Government. The regulations prescribed last November by the Government are openly violated. The Inspector is merely a spectator. His voice is not listened to. Then the carriages are in a fearful state of filth; no water, no light, no panes in the windows. Mr Silva says he is completely disheartened and advises Dr. Araoz to levy some rattling fines that will open the eyes of the companies. Mr Silva is perhaps unaware that the Argentine Great Western and its guarantee are likely to part soon.

In view of the petition of the Agents of the Central Argentine and Northern Railway Companies, and of the report of the Attorney General, the National Government approved yesterday the agreement made in London between the Boards of the two companies, whereby the Northern Railway "in toto" is incorporated with the Central Argentine Railway. The company are authorized to build a double track between Stations Belgrano and Tigre.

Earthworks—1,313,854 metres of earth removed; added to work already done, this makes up a cube of earthwork 1,217,268 metres.

Masonry work—26 bridges are finished and 3,798 metres cube of brickwork completed; one-third of the latter is work done during December.

Workmen—4000 men are engaged at present on the works.

Permanent way—The rails now stretch 7 kilometres beyond Monte Caseros, 3½ beyond Corrientes, and 3½ beyond Santo Tome.

Materials—Seven platforms, 90 waggons. In deposit—120,900 sleepers for 106 kilometres of line; 115.000 iron sleepers for 144 kilos of line; 7,800,000 kgs. of rails for the same distance, and 2,500,000 kgs. of ties.

Dr Araoz has ordered the complaint books of the Ensenada Line to be returned. The Board had a good peep into them but found nothing.

A correspondent writing from Mendoza gives an account of a trip on the Pacific Line. The excursion-party was a numerous one and included many distinguished representatives of the local press. The pleasure of the trip was somewhat marred by the rain, which fell rather heavily that day. Nevertheless, all had the best of spirits, which is essential for the enjoyment of an excursion. The special train took them to the present limit of the line kil. 24, on the Rio Mendoza. This river has been considerably swollen by the rains. The violence of the waters carried away the bridge-work and fifteen of the men perished in the stream. Two or three days ago, the body of a child was cast on the bank by the river. The earthworks have been pushed forward from the Rio Mendoza to San Ignacio kil. 50, and the navvies are at work as far as kil 85. At Alambre, the line follows the tortuous bank of the river, and there are to be 12 bridges between that point and Uspallata. As our readers are already aware, the Mendoza Bridge is to have a span of 130 metres. There are to be 4 other bridges across the same river, but these will be very small, 45 metres each. Independently of these, there are to be 5 tunnels, one of which, the Caleton, 120 metres in length, has already been completed. The party were entertained at breakfast in this tunnel, and they seem to have had a merry time of it. In the course of the repast, several rocks were blasted, by way of amusing the guests, who relished the noise and appeared to gather fresh appetite for each succeeding course. After a few toasts and a few more explosions of dynamite and enthusiasm, the party returned. On the following Wednesday, the directing engineer with three technical staffs set out to begin the large and principal tunnel, which will take some years to complete. The sections of the line as far as Uspallata will be finished and opened this year.

We may add that Mr. Clark leaves shortly for Valparaiso, where he already holds a site for the terminus of his line. There are over 40 kilometres of rails stored in Valparaiso. The contractors have 1400 men at work, and about 100 employees, 45 of whom are engineers. Uspallata will be reached next month. Expenses are roughly set down at 100,000 dollars per month. The work is truly a monumental one, and when we consider the immense difficulties which surround the undertaking, we cannot but congratulate Mr. Clark on his energy and enterprise.

An important petition, signed by leading estancieros and others of the South of the Province, has been forwarded to the La Plata Minister of Public Works. The petitioners call the Minister's attention to the fact that the line proposed by Messrs. Wilkinson and Co. should be nearly completed by this time, and yet there is so far no sign of its having been commenced. As Messrs. Wilkinson and Co. have transferred their concession to the Buenos Ayres, Ensenada, and South Coast Railway, their responsibility ends, and the government should oblige the purchasers to comply with the terms of the concession.

The Provincial Board of Railways hold a meeting to-day in that dilapidated and disreputable looking structure known as the Once Station. The Board purpose looking over things in general, and we sincerely hope that they will gather from their visit the conviction that the present building is no station for so important a line as the Western. There is a camp appearance about this wooden station, which jars upon the feelings even of a member of the Railway Board. Look at the Constitucion station. Something of the sort is needed for the great provincial trunk-line.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The Mendoza fizzle and Ministerial changes have taken quite a "back seat" in foreign circles in face of the news from Samoa. The Galveston cablegrams received last night, and which will be found in another column, contain the very important news that John Bull intends to back up his Cousin Jonathan in demanding satisfaction from Germany for this Samoa affair, in case international treaties have been violated. Meanwhile Jonathan in Samoa appears to have hit the Jeuton back on his own hook with characteristic vigour, having burned down his Consulate. The whole business will, of course, be settled diplomatically; but it is awkward for Germany to repeat with Great Powers the same blustering blunders made with weak Spain in the Carolinas imbroglio which the Pope so happily arranged. Germany is but an infant in colonial matters, however stalwart a giant on the European Continent. Hence these "faux pas."

The latest news from the capital of Chupat Territory is that a municipality has been started there. Welshmen make excellent Aldermen, and we have no doubt as to the new Corporation doing well.

There's nothing like doing business with Government, which always acts in an off-hand way, so different from the higgling of private parties. A steamer company has just entered into a contract with Government to bring out emigrants from Europe at 60 dollars per head. The fare in other steamers is $45 per head; but the difference will no doubt be made up by giving the emigrants ham and turkey and champagne at dinner every day during the voyage.

Lacroze charges 12 cents on his new Calle Corrientes and Chacarita line. How is this?

We have dates from Panama to December 15th. They have had an awful flood there, and the whole country from Bas Obispo to San Pablo was under water when the mail left. There is not a single word in the papers about the Panama Canal, or anything to foreshadow the smash up that has since taken place.

The coincidence of the Chilian Minister of War issuing an order prohibiting all access to forts, arsenals, barracks etc without express permission from him, just before the arrival of the Argentine war ship Argentina on the west coast, has caused some comment, but not much. There is probably nothing in it.

It seems curious that such a flourishing province as Santa Fe should have remained up to the present without a Rural Society. Such is the case, however. But the long-felt want is about to be supplied, and influential men in Rosario and Santa Fe are now putting their heads together on the subject.

Poor Italy is in for another campaign in Abyssinia: at least so a telegram published yesterday says, in flat contradiction of a previous one to the effect that peace had been made with that most ferocious warrior Whisky Negus. Italy is also fortifying her frontiers on the side of France.

"A delightful tale is told at the expense of a very pretty, but rather ignorant housemaid, who forms one of the household of the rector of a church between Hove and Brighton. The reverend gentleman in question was absent for a brief holiday, and had secured as locum tenens an old college chum. Unmindful of the rector's absence, his bishop called to see him one day last week, and the door was opened by the pretty housemaid. "Is Mr.—at home?" was the inquiry. "No sir; he ain't; he's gone to London", replied the girl; "but if it's anythink about the church, pr'aps you'd like to see the local demon."

The business in gold to day was simply stupendous, and the guts ecuajos and outsiders as they clung on to the rails of the ring could scarcely credit the "prima facie" evidence of their eyes as they saw lots of from 100,000 to 400,000 hoisted up on the board in such quick succession that the market had scarcely breathing time. Six and a half millions for one ring is neither flea-bite nor bagatelle. As for the prices, they were stiff without touching soaring point,, and the real quicksands lie not so much in the actual differences as in the magnitude of the amounts disposed of. From this it may be readily believed that the approach of the settlement is not viewed with any great measure of confidence. At the close of the ring there remained over many sellers at the closing quotations, which seems to favour the probability of a further decline; and there can be no doubt that the latter would be not only most acceptable to the market at large, but would also very probably smooth the way for the liquidation. There is, it is conjectured, much gold still to be bought, but the bears have of late been covering their operations on a large scale, thus precluding a heavy "corner" at the finale. In stocks there is a most appreciable and visible improvement, National Bank Shares recovering to 278 and closing with buyers half a point lower. The other values reflected improvement, perhaps not so much in rates as in increased animation, which looks more hopeful for holders.

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the first ring:—

The National Bank branch in La Plata will be opened to the public on the 1st of February. Mr. A. Nuñez has been promoted from the San Nicolas branch to this more important post, as manager.

The "barraqueros" have formally advised the produce consignees that in future, with regard to wools bought, they will only receive 10 o/o in bellies and 6 o/o lambs; that is, in each 100 kilos, 10 kilos bellies and six kilos lambs, clean and first clip.

In "saladero" items, two shipments of jerked-beef for Brazil are reported, 1,000 bales per s.s. Tagus and 3140 bales per s.s. J. W. Taylor.

Mr. Hamilton Trotman, the well-known exchange broker, took leave of a large circle of friends to-day. He leaves in the fast Italian packet Vittoria for sunny Italy.

As will be seen in our advertisement columns, the firm of Lavaggi, Roig and Co. has dissolved by mutual consent, the business being carried on by the new firm Roig and Puelles.

As will be observed by reference to our advertising columns, the meeting of shareholders of the old Gas Company, announced for 25th inst., has been postponed until 5th prox., when the matter in hand will be despatched, how few soever may be present.

Whoever wants to purchase cheap a good comfortable country house should not fail to attend at Godoy's auction in Temperley on Sunday next. Besides a well-finished house, there is a lovely garden, and the neighbors are the kindest and most genial in life, which is saying a good deal.

There is a great and quite unusual stir in Zarate on the prospect of the immediate commencement of General Meyer's new graving docks, the plans for which were prepared by the eminent American engineer Mr. H. Wheeler, whose project for a "winged port" in our outer roads caused such a sensation amongst scientific men last year.

Mr. Julius J. Smith was warmly welcomed by his numerous friends this week on the occasion of his short visit to this city. He reports things in Montevideo very dull, in comparison to our special steam power pace.

Mr. Garcia, talented President of the National Mortgage Bank, has made arrangements to have the coupons and amortization of the A gold series bearing 5 per cent. interest payable in all the principal European markets, which will no doubt give a new impetus to the sale of this valuable stock. This service will of course be entirely at the Bank's expenses.

Chevalier Oldham, of Montevideo, was welcomed on 'Change to-day. He will remain a few days in this city.

It is announced that the English Bank of the River Plate has purchased the Lacrosse tramway. The price is reserved, but is said to be seven hundred thousand pounds sterling. It will now be launched into a new English Tramway Co.

The business in gold at the second hour was mild in comparison with the enormous amounts banged away in the morning. Rates kept fairly up, though the tendency is reported to be rather weak, from which a decline is expected. Stocks were somewhat brisker, which is a good sign, and shows that there is more money seeking investment. National Bank Shares, however, weakened off from 268 to 267, closing with buyers at this rate. La Plata Moles improved to 125 for end of month, and Credito Real to 152, whilst Constructors looked very firm at 138 for same date. A few lots of the Scrip were disposed of at 80. In Cedulas there was little demand, rates being still inclined to give way.

The work of colonizing the Chaco Austral is beginning to show vigorous signs of development. The Felix Agara Colony, situated to N.E. of Fort Wilde, contains 100 families practised in farming. The Novaro Colony is also being rapidly pushed ahead in point of population, whilst the Benitez, Popular, and Juarez Celman Colonies are all sufficiently well provided already with sturdy colonists. Messrs. Mediondo Brothers are about to start a colony on 8,000 hectares they hold on the Rosario River. The flourishing Hardy Colony at Las Palmas contains already 1,800 inhabitants. This is only a sample of what is being done in this line in the Chaco.

In Colonel Pringles the inhabitants are in great spirits over the appearance of a party of Southern Railway engineers on survey, and it seems that the probabilities are in favor of a line which will put them in communication with Olavarria, Col. Dorrego and B. Blanca.

The public owe a vote of thanks to Dr Alen the talented Spanish lawyer whose first act on taking his seat last week on the Municipal board was to decree the establishment of "Casas de asistencia publica" instead of the costly and very ineffectual system of "Medicos de Seccion." According to the new plan an office is opened in each parish in charge of an apothecary or medical student of advanced degree and recognized capacity, where sick or wounded may apply for gratuitous relief at any hour of the day or night, and whence the patient is despatched home or to hospital in a carriage as his private means or the general requirements of the case may imperiously dictate. How very different this from the old system of having to hammer away at the Parish doctor's door for half an hour, only to learn that you had no right to get sick except at certain hours, or that you had got wounded just at the wrong moment. Most of the officials were very worthy and humane gentlemen, but Dr. Alen knows human nature too well not to comprehend the difference between private houses and public offices: the one must be respected naturally by the people, whose acknowledged servant the latter most unquestionably is.

Shareholders of the Central Produce Market will be glad to learn that there are fair probabilities of this splendid concern being in running order by month of June next, which will put it in a position to avail of the enormous maize crop to be exported this year. According to the architect, Mr. Moog, six of the nine deposits are already up and finished, whilst the remaining three will not take more than six weeks. These deposits, we may remark, en passant, cover an area some 4½ times larger than the Southern Railway deposits in the South Plaza. As for the moles they have been already begun and will be pushed ahead with all possible speed, some necessary plant not being available for the moment. Arrangements have been made with the Western Railway Board to have the communications effected before June, so that everything may be as forward as possible by that date. Next month a meeting of the shareholders will be held, at which a detailed account of the actual state and prospects of the company will be given.

List of passengers arrived ex s.s. Sorata from Liverpool for Buenos Aires:

Mr. M. Garret, Mr. and Mrs. Hammell and family (5), Mr. F. Turber, Mr. T. Mollkoff, Mr. R. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Smith, Mr. A. E. Douglas, Miss G. Hill, Mr. L. H. Collins, H. Power, I.
